Rhode Island's State Tree is the Red Maple, one of the first trees to show its red buds in the spring, and the first to show its brilliant red colors in the fall.

Happy New Water Year! No longer are we waiting for the Water Year Summaries to be compiled. Those Summaries are there for us to use, look at and learn from, right now.

Plenty of links included in this month's newsletter. Links for the Water Year Summaries. And more links to look deeper into your own reports.

As we always lead off, a look at our version of the "Grand" List.

Let's get into it.

The “Grand” List

Congratulations to all of these observers from our three states who have recently passed a milestone of 1000 Daily Reports.

Water Year Summaries: Since Year 2010, what used to be compiled for our Water Year Summaries was an update in mid-October and a final update in mid-November. Not anymore! Water Year Summaries are now dynamic, updated with every report that you make, in the past and for the current year.

A starting point for all states and years <https://wys.cocorahs.org/>

One of our states for one year <https://wys.cocorahs.org/ma/2021>

For the current year <https://wys.cocorahs.org/RI/2022>

Pick a station for a previous year <https://wys.cocorahs.org/station/MA-BR-55/2020> Yes, you can change this to your station, or any other station for any other year.

When you are viewing a state's worth of Water Year Summaries, you can set filters, select columns, and change the sort sequence. Learn how to do that within this document. <https://wys.cocorahs.org/wys-app-help.pdf>

For the history buffs, here's where Water Year Summaries used to be <https://www.cocorahs.org/WaterYearSummary/>

Water Year Summaries are no longer a snapshot in time. They are dynamic and interactive. Learn from all of this, as these Summaries are the great benefit of the day-to-day reporting that many of you do.

Observer tips

Reporting Checkups: There are several ways you can check on your own station's reporting.

With the website, after submitting a Daily Report, there is the past 7 reports. All comes with a spy glass to view and a pencil to correct.

With the mobile app, there is a History Function. For Daily Reports and for Multi-Day Reports. Double tap to edit any of your reports.

Whether it is for Water Year Summaries or to spot check your reporting for the past week or month, there are SEVERAL tools to use to check on your stations' reports. Please use them regularly.

Significant Weather Reports: 97 of the network's 462 reports in September, came from our 3 states.

Our criteria:

- 1" or more of rain in 1 hour or less.
- 2" or more of rain. Even when you measure 2" or more with your morning observation.
- Flooding.
- Anything you feel is significant!

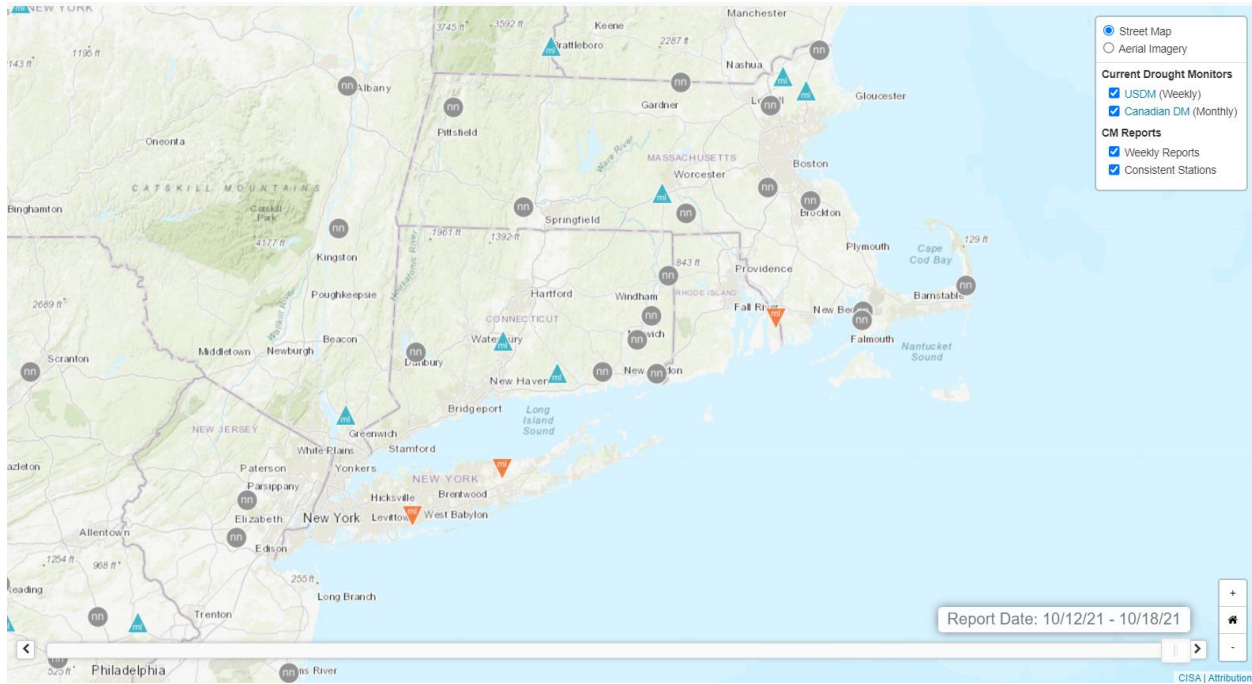

Training Videos: 17 animated videos in 60 minutes for experienced and new observers alike on YouTube. We encourage you to view some or all of them, even as a refresher.

mPING app for Apple and Android: Citizen Science in immediate action. Use mPING to report rain, drizzle and dense fog. Get ready for snow coming.

Water Year Summaries: They are interactive and dynamic. Check out the stations that have reported here. <https://wys.cocorahs.org/> If you are very new to the crew, set the Year to 2022!

Condition Monitoring Reports

Always good to see a cluster of reports on the map from our locale.

nn Westfield 2.8 SE

Fri Oct 15 2021

No rain this week. In looking through my records, this is the first full week since last May that there was no weekly precipitation. Rivers appear at normal levels and soil moisture in the yard seems OK. More fall colors this week.

MA-HD-28 -- General Awareness, Plants And Wildlife

nn Stonington 0.5 NNE

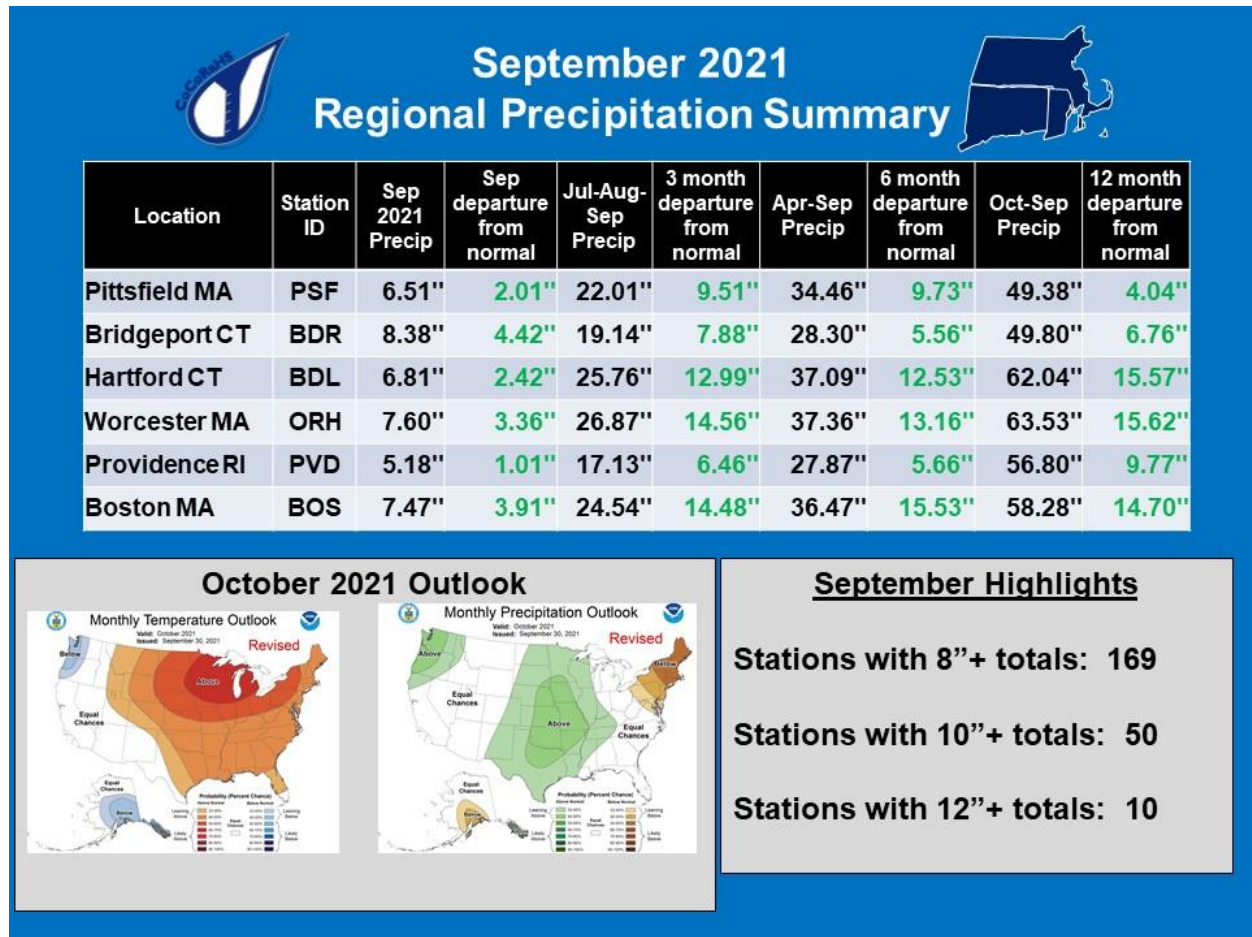

Sun Oct 17 2021

About 1.25" of rain over the last 2 weeks, most at the beginning of that stretch. Vegetable garden is done. Reservoir is overflowing but just barely.

Detail and Summary for September 2021

From the National Weather Service (NWS) Climate sites for Sep 2021.

The remnant rains of Hurricane Ida arrived on Wednesday September 1, and we reported those rain amounts on September 2nd.

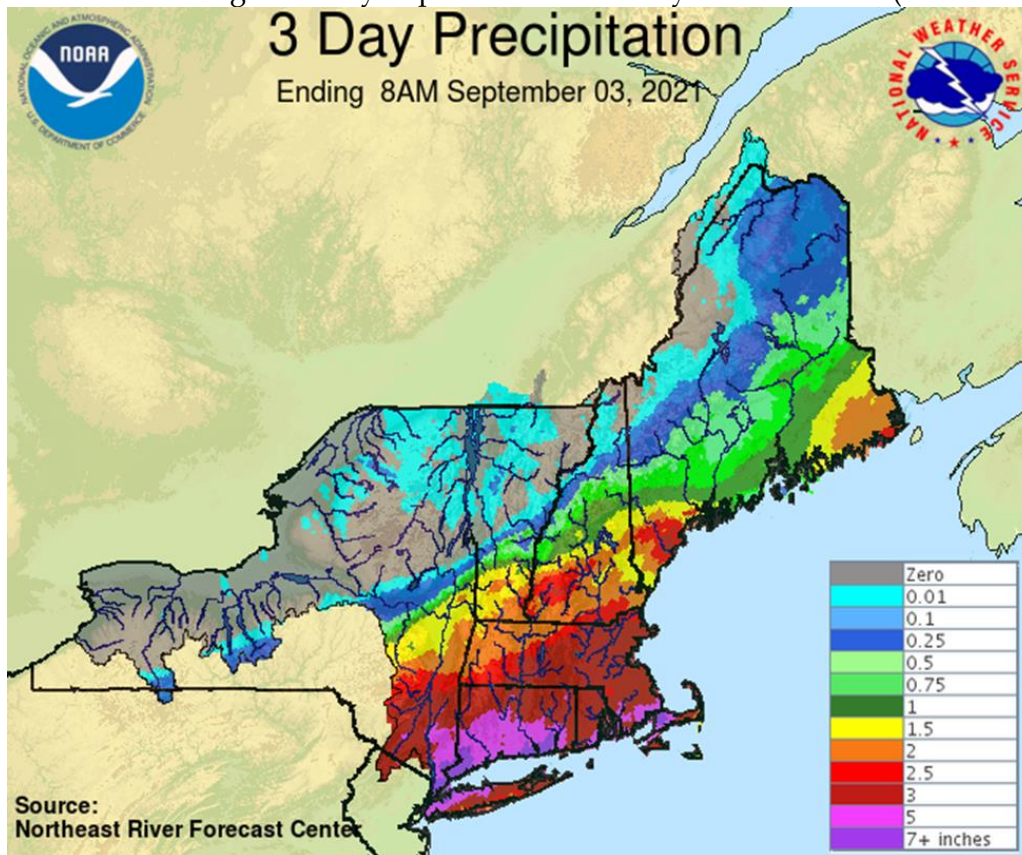

Thank you for the dozens of Significant Weather Reports for that event.

Thank you for 217 MA + 173 CT + 96 RI = 486 Daily Precip Reports of 3"+, for that event, that were part of a significant 2,332 Daily Precip Reports of 3"+ for the entire network for the entire month of September.

September 2nd may end the year with the highest report total so far in our entire network's history, a total that now stands at 16,218 Daily Reports, 67 reports shy of the record. Thank you for establishing a single day reporting record of our own on that day of 546 Daily Reports.

Welcome to another 7 new members to this list from around the area, Kent & Andover CT, Mashpee & Groveland MA.

Embedded in this list are the numbers and names of the Watersheds with no stations on this list. 92 out the 106 Watersheds in our area are in this month's list. A great representation of the area by many of you.

353 stations included in this list, which is the same number of stations we had in this list in June. Well done by many of you, dealing with the flooding rains and zeros alike.

Cover all days in the month, no NA's, no overlapping Multi-Day reports and your station can be listed here.

This list is sorted by Watershed which is explained further in this 5 minute video.

September was very much a wet month.

Blue colors are over 5". 7.5" and higher for much of Connecticut and Cape Cod.

Green colors are less than 5". A salute to our three Conway MA stations that are wondering what all this fuss about a wet September is all about. Well done in Conway MA and elsewhere, showing us all the variability.

“We do not live at the airport”

An average of 7.93” of precip in this list for September, excluding Nantucket. Our list of complete stations averaged 8.07”.

Please use and report from the 4” diameter gauge all year round. Our network does not use automated gauges. And we do not live at the airport!

Rulers of the Snow

We are the Rulers of the Snow. 5", 6", 12" of rain in a month doesn't stop us. We can do something that will define this climate: Report snow fall and snow depth on every day.

A list of 74 stations in September, plus a little extra from our friends, who reported snow fall and snow depth for all days. 702 stations across the entire network did the same, so this list equates to 11% of all stations that did so across the entire network in September. We are the network leaders, during the summer months.

The measurable snow in Anchorage Alaska is a harbinger of things to come. Be ready to bring the inner cylinder and funnel indoors when cold weather arrives.

Using the mobile app? Look at the 2nd page of the mobile app, "More Details" on the Apple App, and fill in those snow values. Make a snow fall and snow depth measurement with every Daily Report, if you can safely do so, all year round.

September 2021 as a calendar. Bright magenta for the highest number of reports when Ida came through our area, our single day reporting record, breaking what we did in May of this year.

Green for the lowest number of reports.

469 Reports per Day was our reporting average for September 2021.

With a strong dose of rain in September, we eliminated the last of the drought conditions in our locale.

Please continue to report the conditions where you are. Strive to be a “Consistent Station” by submitting over 20 Condition Monitoring Reports in a 52-week period.

Wrap up

Our first frost and first freeze seem late in coming this year. As October continues, be ready for freezing temps overnight. And with freezing temperatures, be ready to remove your funnel and inner cylinder should below freezing temperatures arrive with liquid in the inner cylinder. Measure, write down and report your measurement at your regular time. When the warmer weather returns, so can your inner cylinder and funnel.

Do take in the changing colors throughout this month of October. Enjoy the beauty that makes New England unique. Where you can avoid the crowds and be outdoors, take in the harvests of apples, grapes, and cranberries this month.

After the rains we just had in September, it's tough to say this, so it's tougher to read this. With dry conditions, breezes, leaves falling and sunshine reaching the floor of the woods, October is one of our two Fire Weather Months. Along with April, just a few days without precipitation, sunshine, a breeze, and dry conditions can be enough to keep a small fire in our area.

Daylight Saving time ends on November 7th. Late afternoon darkness is about to come!

Another WxTalk Webinar will be on Thursday November 11th, titled "Ice Ice Baby - Predicting Freezing Rain Icing and Impacts" Our Vermont State Coordinator, Dr. Jay Shafer, presents a topic that is close to home to us.

Thank you for all that you do for CoCoRaHS, whether in the past, present and in the days to come.
