

Peter Goble Biography

Peter is a Climatologist for the Colorado Climate Center at Colorado State University. Peter received his master's degree in Atmospheric Science in 2016 and was hired as a researcher. His time is split between research and education/outreach. His research focuses on the role of soil moisture in seasonal weather and water monitoring and prediction. In addition, Peter is the Colorado State Coordinator for CoCoRaHS.